

QUALITY ASSURANCE POLICY

“Rota Mining, in this facility, produces the highest quality natural zeolite mineral in the World. “

Gültekin AYVAZOĞLU
Rota Mining Co. CEO

I put my signature hereunder my words with my deepest and most sincere sentiments; since Rota Mining has the high quality raw material, state-of-the-art machinery and equipment, the necessary quality management system and the responsible personnel to produce the highest quality products in the industry on a Global scale.

Our zeolite reserves is of minimum 85% purity and its quality is world-renowned. Rota Mining personnel avoid any processes that would hinder this unique purity of our zeolite mineral.

Our customers' requests and the requirements of the sectors we serve determine our production processes. Especially our production of feed additives for the livestock industry requires a particular care and meticulousness, as the matter at hand is the healthy nutrition of the livestock and thus the individuals whose diets include such meat products. The foremost reason of using the zeolite mineral in livestock feed is to increase the quality and healthiness of the livestock. Any decrease in the quality of the zeolite mineral would be reflected in the livestock's health as well. With such understanding and aware of their responsibility towards the consumers and their customers, each and every Rota Mining employee works to supply quality and reliable products.

Rota Mining has made it a principle to provide the best quality and most reliable zeolite mineral to its customers in the livestock industry. In order to assure the quality in feed additive production, our facilities implement the FamiQs Quality Control System seamlessly. All Rota Mining personnel operates with the care and knowledge of the importance of the FamiQs Quality Control System.

The strong trust we have been building over the years between the management and our team as well as the high sense of responsibility of our employees towards their work and their superiors is truly reflected on the quality of the product. We assess this positive impact from the confidence our customers place on us and our products. In order to maintain this trust, Rota Mining evaluates each of its customers' suggestions and complaints with utmost care. Such suggestions and complaints, we receive from our customers, are an invaluable source to take the necessary precautions and further develop the existing processes. Rota Mining proudly improves on its production processes and the quality of its products through following up on its customers' requests.

I would like to thank you all for aiding us in becoming the supplier of the highest quality and most reliable zeolite in the world.
